Lead Plaintiffs respectfully submit this reply memorandum of law in further support of their Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlements and Approval of Plans of Allocation.¹

INTRODUCTION

In their opening papers, Lead Plaintiffs established that the proposed settlements, providing for a combined recovery of over $516 million, represent exceptional recoveries for the Settlement Classes after years of litigation and extensive negotiations. Lead Plaintiffs achieved such results under circumstances that included, for example, (i) Lehman's bankruptcy during the pendency of the case, eliminating a primary source of recovery; (ii) the absence of any action filed by the Department of Justice or the SEC against any of the Settling Defendants; and (iii) credible arguments from the directors and underwriters that the Examiner's Report exonerates them from liability. The amount recovered from the Underwriter Defendants, over $426 million, represents a substantial percentage of the Underwriter Defendants' maximum damages even before considering the causation defense, which Defendants contend would eliminate or dramatically reduce damages. Also, Lead Plaintiffs maximized the recovery for the D&O Settlement Class in the face of wasting D&O insurance due to defense costs and competing claims. Thus, as further detailed in Lead Plaintiffs' opening papers, the Settlements are fair, reasonable and adequate, and warrant approval.

Likewise, the proposed Plans of Allocation provide fair and reasonable methods for equitably apportioning the net proceeds, and should be approved. Each was prepared in consultation with an expert in economics to equitably distribute the proceeds.²

The overwhelmingly positive reaction from members of the Settlement Classes further

underscores that the Settlements and Plans of Allocation should be approved. In accordance with the Court's Notice Orders, Settlement Class members were notified of the Settlements through publication in The Wall Street Journal and Investor's Business Daily, by postings on designated websites and by direct mail. Moreover, the Settlements received significant media attention because of the notoriety of Lehman's bankruptcy and the high profile of litigation surrounding Lehman. In response to such publicity and the Court-approved notice program, not a single member of the Underwriter Settlement Class objected to the Underwriter Settlement or the Underwriter Plan of Allocation.

There are only seven objections to the D&O Settlement, none of which are from institutional investors despite widespread institutional ownership of Lehman securities during the Settlement Class Period.³ The objections apparently represent only 200 shares of common stock, out of over 600 million shares outstanding as of September 15, 2008.⁴ These objections are entirely devoid of merit. They include, among other contentions, assertions that the recoveries obtained from the Settling Underwriter Defendants should also be distributed to members of the D&O Settlement Class; demands to see picture identification of all proposed Settlement Class Representatives; and speculation that Honorable John S. Martin (Ret.), who Lead Plaintiffs retained to perform an independent evaluation of the Officer Defendants' liquid net worth, received a kickback for his conclusion on the Officer Defendants' liquid net worth.

As Lead Plaintiffs explained in their opening papers, application of the Grinnell factors strongly support approval of the Settlements. See Settlement Memorandum (ECF No. 340) at 4-20. Now that the time has passed for class members to object or request exclusion, the paucity of objections and their lack of merit further support the final approval of the Settlements and approval of the Plans of Allocation.

³ Objections have been received from Raymond Gao (the "Gao Obj."), Chris Andrews (the "Andrews Obj."), Judith A. and Randy J. Putnam (the "Putnam Obj."), Justin S. Kahn (the "Kahn Obj."), Ronald R. Smith (the "Smith Obj."), and Insoon Park (the "Park Obj."). Also, Jane Eisenberg, who is not a class member, objects because she wishes to be included in the Settlement Classes. For the Court's convenience, copies of the objections have been included in a Compendium of Objections, filed herewith. In addition, Non-Settling Defendant Ernst & Young LLP ("E&Y") submits a limited objection to the wording of the proposed bar order.

ARGUMENT

I. THE SETTLEMENTS ARE FAIR, REASONABLE, AND ADEQUATE AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

Pursuant to the Court’s Notice Orders, Lead Plaintiffs published notices in The Wall Street Journal and Investor’s Business Daily on January 30, 2012. See Affidavit of Stephen J. Cirami dated March 8, 2012 (ECF No. 343-2) (“Cirami Aff.”), at ¶12. Lead Plaintiffs also posted the Notices on the websites tailored to the Settlement Classes. Further, the Claims Administrator mailed over 900,000 copies of the Notice Packet to potential members of the Settlement Classes or their nominees. See Supplemental Affidavit of Stephen J. Cirami (“Suppl. Cirami Aff.”), filed simultaneously herewith, at ¶3.

Compared to the number of potential class members who received notice from the comprehensive notice program, the number of objections and the shares they represent are diminutive.⁵ The absence of any objection from institutions, which have the greatest financial interest in the outcome, further supports approval.⁶

⁶ See, e.g., In re AOL Time Warner, Inc. Sec. & ERISA Litig., No. MDL 1500, 2006 WL 903236, at *10 (S.D.N.Y. April 6, 2006) (fact that “not a single institutional Class Member objected to the Settlement” supported its approval); In re NASDAQ Market-Makers Antitrust Litig., 187 F.R.D. 465, 479 (S.D.N.Y. 1998) (the reaction of the class supported approval of the settlements where “none of the thousands of institutional Class members, who have the largest financial

Likewise, the small number of requests for exclusion also supports approval of the Settlements. Requests for exclusion have been submitted by or on behalf of 88 potential members of the Settlement Classes (14 persons or entities request exclusion from only the UW Settlement Class, 24 request exclusion from only the D&O Settlement Class and 50 request exclusion from both Settlement Classes). Suppl. Cirami Aff. ¶6. The 88 requests for exclusion represent a miniscule fraction of the over 900,000 Notice Packets mailed to the Settlement Classes. This underscores the very positive reaction by members of the Settlement Classes to the proposed Settlements and further supports approval. See, e.g., AOL, 2006 WL 903236, at *10 (opt-outs amounting to less than 0.2% of the putative class members weighed in favor of settlement); In re Sumitomo Copper Litig., 189 F.R.D. 274, 281 (S.D.N.Y. 1999) (fact that fewer than 1% of class members requested exclusion “strongly favor[ed] approval of the proposed settlement”).

A. Approval Of The Underwriter Settlement Is Supported By The Uniform Reaction Of The Class

Lead Plaintiffs have obtained $426,218,000 from the Settling Underwriter Defendants, which standing alone represents one of the largest recoveries in any case arising out of the 2008 financial crisis.⁷ The recovery amounts to 13% of the approximately $3.3 billion that the Settling Underwriter Defendants underwrote, which is the absolute maximum that could have been recovered against the Settling Underwriter Defendants at trial, even before consideration of any credible defenses, such as due diligence, reliance on experts and negative causation. Not only does this percentage recovery significantly exceed the median recovery in similar securities stake, have objected”); In re OCA, Inc. Sec. and Derivative Litig., No. 05-2165, 2009 WL 512081, at *16 (E.D. La. Mar. 2, 2009) (where a number of class members were “sophisticated financial institutions such as state and municipal pension funds,” the fact that these investors “voiced no objections further attests to the general support for the settlement”).

class actions against underwriters (see Settlement Memorandum at 20-21), but the Underwriter Defendants asserted throughout the litigation – and were expected to continue to assert through summary judgment and trial – that myriad factors other than the alleged untrue statements and omissions caused the decline in the securities’ value. The Underwriter Defendants would argue, therefore, that damages were zero or substantially less than $3.3 billion, in which case the recovery is substantially greater than 13%.

B. The D&O Settlement Is An Excellent Result And The Few Objections Provide No Basis To Disapprove The Settlement

As explained in Lead Plaintiffs’ opening papers, the $90 million D&O Settlement is a favorable result for the D&O Settlement Class. Four individuals object generally to the amount. Andrews Obj. at 7-8; Park Obj. at 1, see also Putnam Obj. at 1.

1. The Amount Of The D&O Settlement Is Reasonable In Light Of The Risks

The $90 million D&O Settlement is not only reasonable, it is a positive result for the D&O Settlement Class under the circumstances. Leaving aside the Individual Defendants’ defenses and the risk of recovering nothing after summary judgment or trial, there are obvious and substantial risks in collecting on any judgment that might be obtained through trial in this case. The available source of recovery, the D&O insurance proceeds, were fast depleting due to defense costs and competing claims against the same policies that were well in excess of such insurance – including arbitration awards – during the ongoing negotiations.⁸ Lead Plaintiffs successfully obtained the vast majority of remaining available insurance against competing claims, and Lead Plaintiffs insisted that the D&O Settlement be subject to an independent evaluation of the liquid net worth of the Officer Defendants. There was a strong possibility that the D&O Settlement Class would have recovered significantly less than $90 million (and possibly nothing) if the case were litigated through trial and beyond. Joint Decl. ¶¶4, 58-59, 69-70.

Lead Plaintiffs retained the Honorable John S. Martin (Ret.), a highly-respected neutral, to perform an independent evaluation of the Officer Defendants' liquid net worth. Joint. Decl. ¶70. Judge Martin, in turn, retained a provider of forensic and investigation services to assist with his analysis.⁹ Mr. Andrews objects to the retention of Judge Martin and to the process generally. Andrews Obj. at 8-9, 17-21. The purpose of the evaluation was to consider an alternative source of liquid recovery, should Lead Plaintiffs have decided to forgo acceptance of the then-available insurance proceeds and instead to have continued pursuing claims against the D&O Defendants. Joint Decl. ¶70. Liquid assets, including marketable securities that are easily converted to cash, were taken into consideration by Judge Martin. Id. Homes and hard assets can shift in value dramatically over time and, thus, were not included in the calculation of liquid net worth because the collectability on any favorable judgment would be years away. Furthermore, the numerous lawsuits currently ongoing against the Officer Defendants gives rise to a very real possibility of competing judgments against their limited resources. Contrary to Mr. Andrews' view (Obj. at 18), compensation received in prior periods was considered if still possessed by the Officer Defendants, either as cash or as marketable securities. Given Judge Martin's conclusion, obtaining the certain $90 million recovery is the best approach to maximize the recovery for the D&O Settlement Class. Id. ¶71.

Contrary to Mr. Andrews' contention (Obj. at 10), funding the D&O Settlement through insurance does not make the settlement unfair. Lead Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel have a responsibility to seek to maximize the recovery under the circumstances within the bounds of zealous advocacy, whatever the source of the funds. Accepting a certain and substantial amount of insurance proceeds, rather than seeking hypothetical contributions from individuals at some future date, is in the best interests of the class. See, e.g., In re Global Crossing Sec. & ERISA Litig., 225 F.R.D. 436, 457 (S.D.N.Y. 2004) (approving settlement based on insurance proceeds and noting that “[t]he objection that the individual defendants should have contributed more to the settlement is largely symbolic . . . most of these [individual] defendants, whatever their culpability, lack the financial ability to contribute to the fund in amounts that would materially improve the settlement.”).

Mr. Andrews also contends that the funds recovered from the Settling Underwriter Defendants should be combined with the $90 million D&O Settlement for distribution to the D&O Settlement Class. Andrews Obj. at 8. This is not possible, however, because purchasers of common stock alone, such as Mr. Andrews, hold no valid claims against any of the Settling Underwriter Defendants. See In re WorldCom, Inc. Sec. Litig., 388 F. Supp. 2d 319, 351 (S.D.N.Y. 2005) (Cote, J.) (approving settlement that allocated all funds recovered from underwriter defendants to purchasers of bonds issued in certain offerings, noting “it would be manifestly unfair to allocate those monies to purchasers of stock and pre-existing bonds with only Exchange Act claims, as the Underwriter Defendants faced only Securities Act claims arising from their participation in the 2000 and 2001 Offerings”).

Mr. Andrews also contends that the settlement amount should be greater because, in his view, the class period should have started in 2001, and Lead Plaintiffs should have pursued other (unidentified) individuals. See Andrews Obj. at 16. Lead Plaintiffs, however, alleged an appropriate class period based on the facts and law. Moreover, Mr. Andrews fails to explain how adding hypothetical defendants would increase the recovery from the officers and directors.

2. The Putnams’ Objection, Seeking Return Of Their Initial Capital, Is Without Merit

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam object that although the prospectus for their investments promised “principal protection,” while other securities did not have this feature, the D&O Settlement does not provide for the return of principal. Putnam Obj. at 1. Like the other purchasers of “principal protection” securities, the Putmans had § 11 claims against the D&O Defendants. The D&O Plan of Allocation for all such claims is appropriately based on the statutory damages provisions of § 11(e) and provides a pro rata allocation for such members of the D&O Settlement Class.¹⁰

The D&O Plan of Allocation, based on statutory damages for all Section 11 claims, is fair and reasonable, and as numerous courts have held, a plan of allocation need not be perfect. See, e.g., In re Giant Interactive Grp., Inc. Sec. Litig., --- F.R.D. ----, 2011 WL 5244707, at *8 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 2, 2011); In re PaineWebber Ltd. P’ships Litig., 171 F.R.D. 104, 133 (S.D.N.Y. 1997) (in “a large class action the apportionment of a settlement can never be tailored to the rights of each plaintiff with mathematical precision”), aff’d, 117 F.3d 721 (2d Cir. 1997). Rather, an allocation plan “need only have a reasonable, rational basis, particularly if recommended by experienced and competent class counsel.” WorldCom, 388 F. Supp. 2d at 344.

C. The Objectors’ Additional Points

1. Exclusion Of Certain Securities From The Settlements

Rather than object to the Settlements, Ms. Eisenberg wishes to participate in them. However, she is not a member of either Settlement Class because the Lehman 6.375% Series K Preferred securities that she purchased were issued in 2003, well before the alleged misstatements in the case.¹¹ Lead Plaintiffs asserted claims where liability exists under the federal securities laws and for securities that they or other named plaintiffs had standing, based on the Court’s ruling. Only such covered securities are included in the Settlements.

¹⁰ In addition to any recovery from the Settlements, members of the D&O Settlement Class may be entitled to distribution from Lehman’s bankruptcy under a confirmed plan of reorganization. Moreover, this is a partial settlement; claims remain against Non-Settling Defendants E&Y and UBSFS.

¹¹ Eisenberg Obj. at 2. Mr. Gao similarly objects (Gao Obj. at 7), but he has not identified the security or securities that he purchased.

2. Mr. Andrews' Demand For Picture Identification Of The Class Representatives

Consistent with Second Circuit precedent and this Court's holdings in this Action, the Court-appointed Lead Plaintiffs identified in the Complaint additional plaintiffs with standing for certain securities. See In re Lehman Bros. Sec. & ERISA Litig., 799 F. Supp. 2d 258, 308-09 (S.D.N.Y. 2011); In re WorldCom, Inc. Sec. Litig., 294 F. Supp. 2d 392, 422 (S.D.N.Y. 2003). Mr. Andrews objects and demands picture IDs of the named plaintiffs because he contends that they may not exist and falsely claims that certain of them have not submitted certifications pursuant to the federal securities laws. Andrews Obj. at 15, 21-23. Mr. Andrews ignores the fact that the Complaint appends certifications only for the plaintiffs that were named for the first time in that complaint, and that the certifications for the remaining named plaintiffs were filed in prior submissions and in consolidated actions. See, e.g., ECF Nos. 52, 168.

3. The Absence Of Collusion

Mr. Gao asks that Lead Counsel and one of the firms representing the D&O Defendants be "immediately bar[red] . . . from this case on the ground that they may be in collusion with the market makers of LBHI security instruments" Gao Obj. at 2. Mr. Andrews posits that the D&O Settlement is a "fraud on the court" (Andrews Obj. at 37-39) and that the Court is "duty bound to disqualify [itself] if it even considers approving this settlement." Andrews Obj. at 42.

These contentions have no basis as the arduous process leading to the Settlements demonstrates the absence of collusion or fraud. See Settlement Memorandum at 5-7. The protracted arm's-length negotiations; the role of Judge Weinstein, a respected mediator; the extensive notice provided to members of the Settlement Classes; the use of a highly-respected neutral to determine the Officer Defendants' liquid net worth; and the proceedings before this Court all further demonstrate the absence of any collusion or fraud. See, e.g., In re Telik, Inc. Sec. Litig., 576 F. Supp. 2d 570, 576-77 (S.D.N.Y. 2008) (extensive arms'-length negotiations by able counsel and the role played by a mediator "strongly support[ed] a finding" that the settlement was reached "without collusion").

4. The Proposed Bar Orders Were Made Available On The Settlement Website And In Other Locations

Mr. Andrews contends that the proposed bar order has been “hidden” from class members. Andrews Obj. at 9-10. To the contrary, the proposed bar orders are part of the proposed judgments, filed with the Court (ECF Nos. 302, 305) and posted on the websites on or before January 18, 2012. See Joint Decl. ¶50; Cirami Aff. ¶14.

5. E&Y’s Limited Objection To The Proposed Bar Orders

Non-Settling Defendant E&Y requests that the proposed bar orders be modified to bar contribution and indemnity claims – not just by or against the Settling Defendants, as proposed – but by or against their “insurers, subrogees or assigns, or anyone acting on behalf of the Settling Defendants, their insurers, subrogees or assigns.” E&Y App. A at 1. According to E&Y, the “revisions are not designed or expected to have any impact on the class.” E&Y at 1. If all Settling Defendants consent to the modification, Lead Plaintiffs do not oppose E&Y’s request.

II. THE REACTION OF THE SETTLEMENT CLASSES TO THE PROPOSED PLANS OF ALLOCATION SUPPORTS THEIR APPROVAL

Courts afford great weight to the views of experienced counsel on plans of allocation. See Settlement Memorandum at 23. However, courts also consider the class’s reaction to a proposed plan of allocation. Here, the lack of any objections to the UW Plan of Allocation, and the very few objections to the D&O Plan demonstrate the Settlement Classes’ approval. See, e.g., In re EVCI Career Colls. Holding Corp. Sec. Litig., No. 05 Civ. 10240, 2007 WL 2230177, at *11 (S.D.N.Y. July 27, 2007) (courts should “consider the reaction of a class to a plan of allocation”); Maley v. Del Global Techs. Corp., 186 F. Supp. 2d 358, 367 (S.D.N.Y. 2002) (“the favorable reaction of the Class supports approval of the proposed Plan of Allocation”).

A. The Few Objections Provide No Basis For Rejecting The D&O Plan Of Allocation

Mr. Andrews objects to the $50 minimum payment. Andrews Obj. at 17. A minimum payment threshold is a common and beneficial feature of allocation plans. The threshold benefits the class as a whole by eliminating payments to claimants for whom the cost of processing claims, printing and mailing checks and related follow up would be disproportionate in relation to the size of their claim. See, e.g., In re Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. Research Reports Sec. Litig., No. 02 MDL 1484 (JFK), 2007 WL 4526593, at *12 (S.D.N.Y Dec. 20, 2007) (approving $50 minimum distribution amount and noting that “courts have approved minimum payouts in class action settlements in order to foster the efficient administration of the settlement.”).¹² When Lead Plaintiffs later move for approval to distribute the net settlement funds, Lead Plaintiffs may recommend distribution below such $50 threshold, and the Court, in its discretion, may authorize such distribution.

Second, Mr. Andrews objects to the provision of the D&O Plan that permits distribution of remaining funds to charity. Andrews Obj. at 17. The relevant provision in the D&O Plan allows for any remaining balance as a result of uncashed checks or other reasons to be contributed to “non-sectarian, not-for-profit organizations designated by Lead Counsel and approved by the Court” only after at least two distributions to Authorized Claimants have occurred and after a finding that another distribution to Authorized Claimants would not be “cost-effective.” D&O Notice at 18. This is not a cy pres provision in which funds are directed to a charity rather than to class members. Instead, it is a well-accepted practice in cases of this nature for situations where the cost of conducting an additional distribution outweighs the limited benefit of distributing the small remaining balance.

Third, Mr. Andrews objects to the claims submission process, arguing that it is unduly burdensome and that an electronic claim submission process should have been used instead. Andrews Obj. at 44-50. The proposed claims process, which requires the submission of a single form for both Settlements, is well accepted and is not burdensome. Moreover, in contrast to certain consumer class actions where the settling defendant may possess all the necessary information about their own customers' transactions in order to calculate claims and directly mail settlement checks, many members of the Settlement Classes here held their Lehman securities through nominees, and neither Settling Defendants, Lead Plaintiffs, nor GCG possess information about these class members' transactions in Lehman securities. Thus, Mr. Andrews' proposal that a "direct compensation check-mailing method" be used (Andrews Obj. at 44) is not feasible. Claims processes similar to this one – requiring claimants to submit claim forms setting forth information such as the date, price and quantity of eligible securities purchases and supporting documentation by mail – have repeatedly been affirmed and found not unduly burdensome by the Courts.¹³

The Putnams contend that the ending maturity value of the investment (rather than price paid less the value at October 28, 2008) should provide the basis for calculating claims. Putnam Obj. at 2. For securities with claims brought under the Securities Act (i.e., all securities except the common stock and options), the D&O Plan calculates recognized claims based on the Section 11 measure of damages. Because this is the statutory method, it provides a fair and reasonable basis for comparing the relative strengths of class members' claims under the D&O Plan.¹⁴

¹³ See, e.g., In re Marsh & McLennan Cos., Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 04 Civ. 8144 (CM), 2009 WL 5178546, at *25 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 23, 2009) (rejecting objection and finding that the information requested on claim form was "necessary" to "calculate claimants' distributions" and "comport[ed] with the long-approved procedures for the efficient management of class-action settlement distributions"); In re WorldCom, Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 02 CIV 3288 (DLC), 2004 WL 2591402, at *12 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 12, 2004) (holding that "objection to the length and complexity of the proof of claim form is . . . meritless," as "[t]he information that claimants are required to submit is necessary in order for a fair distribution of the settlement proceeds"); In re Parmalat Sec. Litig., No. 04 MD 1653 (LAK), slip op. at 6 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 2, 2009), ECF No. 1057 (approving plan of allocation using similar claim form).

¹⁴ Mr. Gao's objections and questions demonstrate a miscomprehension of certain basic terms of the Settlement. First and foremost, Exhibit 1 lists the "estimated daily inflation" in Lehman stock and is not intended to reflect the trading price of the stock on the listed days. In addition, Section 11(e) refers to "the value [of the security] as of the time [the] suit was brought," see 15 U.S.C. § 77k(e), and that is why October 28, 2011, is used as a reference date in Exhibits 2 and

B. Lead Plaintiffs Recommend Modest Revisions To Exhibits 1 And 4 Of The D&O Plan

The D&O Notice provides that the Court may modify the Plan of Allocation without further notice to the D&O Settlement Class. D&O Notice at 18. The Notice further provides that “any modification of the D&O Plan of Allocation will be posted on the settlement website, www.LehmanSecuritiesLitigationSettlement.com.” Id. at 14. While there have been no objections to Exhibits 1 or 4 to the D&O Plan, Lead Plaintiffs recommend a slight revision to the exhibits, based on further consultation with their consulting expert, and posting such revision on the settlement website in the attached form (Tab A). The revision affects only three trading days of a 462-day class period. Moreover, there is no change to the information that Settlement Class Members will provide or have already provided under the existing Claim Form.

Exhibit 1 sets forth amounts of inflation in the price of Lehman’s common stock on every day of the Settlement Class Period for purposes of calculating “Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain.” Exhibit 4 is the analogous table for Lehman options subject to the D&O Settlement. The revised versions are the same as the previously-submitted versions, except that they reflect inflation or adjust inflation on five additional days, September 10 to September 14, 2008. The revision is consistent with the methodology for the D&O Plan, and Lead Plaintiffs, in consultation with their consulting expert, believe that it is appropriate to the equitable allocation of the D&O recovery.

III. THE NOTICE PROGRAM AS A WHOLE WAS EFFECTIVE AND SATISFIED ALL APPLICABLE REQUIREMENTS

The notice procedure that the Court established in the Notice Orders was reasonable and has been effective. Moreover, the tremendous public attention surrounding Lehman and its 3, as it is when the first complaint asserting § 11 claims for these securities was filed. Furthermore, Exhibit 4 shows both estimated inflation and “deflation” in exchange-traded call and put options traded during the Settlement Class Period and that is why certain numbers appear as negatives in that Exhibit. Id. Lastly, the D&O Plan “limits a window between June 12, 2007 and September 15, 2008,” because this is the Settlement Class Period.

bankruptcy bolstered the effectiveness of the program, as the Settlements were highly publicized and the subject of considerable media attention.

In accordance with the Notice Orders, the Summary Notice was published in The Wall Street Journal and in Investor's Business Daily. The Notices and Claim Form were also posted on the settlement website, www.LehmanSecuritiesLitigationSettlement.com, on the website Lead Plaintiffs' previously established to update the class on events in the litigation, www.LehmanSecuritiesLitigation.com, and on Lead Counsel's firm websites. In addition, over 900,000 Notice Packets were mailed to potential members of the Settlement Classes. See Settlement Brief at 30-31; Cirami Aff. ¶¶12, 14; Suppl. Cirami Aff. ¶3.

Only four individuals complain about the amount of time between receipt of the mailed notice and the date for objecting or requesting exclusion. Kahn Obj. at 1; Park Obj. at 1; Putnam Obj. at 1. The four individuals received notice by mail later than others because they held their securities in the name of a nominee or broker who did not timely respond to the Notice Packet.¹⁵ Such receipt of late notice by mail from certain nominees does not render the notice program unreasonable.¹⁶

¹⁵ As part of its initial mailing in January 2012, GCG mailed Notice Packets to all record owners of the securities received and to over 2,000 of the largest and most common brokers and nominees. Cirami Aff. ¶¶3, 6-8. As set forth in the Notices, nominees were required, within 14 days of receipt of the Notice Packet, to respond. Cirami Aff. ¶9. GCG also followed up by telephone with the largest brokers to obtain information about beneficial holders. Suppl. Cirami. Aff. ¶2.

The reasonableness of the notice process must be judged by the program as a whole, and not by whether any specific class members received notice by mail later than others. See Marsh & McLennan, 2009 WL 5178546, at *23; see also Torrissi v. Tuscon Elec. Power Co., 8 F.3d 1370, 1375 (9th Cir. 1993) (“the question . . . is not whether some individual shareholders got adequate notice, but whether the class as a whole had notice adequate to flush out whatever objections might reasonably be raised to the settlement”). Here, the notice program as a whole is unquestionably reasonable: (i) the Summary Notice was timely published in Investor’s Business Daily and The Wall Street Journal; (ii) posted on websites tailored to members of the Settlement Classes; (iii) the initial mailing occurred 64 days before the objection and opt-out deadline and 85 days before the Settlement Fairness Hearing; and (iv) the substantial majority of potential members of the Settlement Classes received timely-mailed notice.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons and those set forth in Lead Plaintiffs’ opening papers, Lead Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court approve the proposed Settlements and the proposed Plans of Allocation, as modified.

MODIFICATION TO THE PLAN OF ALLOCATION FOR THE D&O SETTLEMENT FUND

The Court has approved a limited modification to the Plan of Allocation for the D&O Settlement. The modification concerns the inflation amount for common stock and options for the last four days of the Settlement Class Period for purposes of calculating the claimant's "Recognized Loss" or "Recognized Gain." Except as set forth below, the Plan of Allocation otherwise remains unchanged.

The original Plan of Allocation can be viewed by clicking on this link: <http://www.lehmansecuritieslitigationsettlement.com/notice.php>. Exhibit 1 identifies the inflation per share in the price of Lehman's common stock. Exhibit 4 is an analogous table related to Lehman call and put options.

The modified exhibits, attached hereto, reflect the revised the amount of inflation per share for common stock between September 10, 2008 and September 14, 2008. Otherwise, the exhibits are the same.

The Proof of Claim Form (available here) requires claimants to provide certain information to the Claims Administrator in order to be eligible to participate in the distribution. Settlement Class Members need not provide any additional information to the Claims Administrator as a result of the modification of the Plan of Allocation because the Proof of Claim Form already requires claimants to list every purchase and sale of common stock during the period June 12, 2007 through and including the close of trading on the date the Claimant submitted the Claim Form, and to list all call or put options purchased or sold between June 7, 2007 and September 15, 2008.

The original Plan of Allocation explains how the Claims Administrator calculates "Recognized Loss" and "Recognized Gain." With the modifications to Exhibits 1 and 4, the following explanation replaces the explanation in the Plan of Allocation for calculating "Recognized Loss" and "Recognized Gain" for purchasers of Lehman common stock and transactions in Lehman call and put options:

D. Recognized Losses for Lehman Common Stock Purchased/Acquired During the Settlement Class Period (Other than Lehman Common Stock Purchased/Acquired in the June 9, 2008 Secondary Offering)

For each share of Lehman common stock purchased/acquired during the Settlement Class Period (other than common stock purchased or acquired in the Secondary Offering), the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain will be computed by the Claims Administrator as follows:

- a) if sold before June 9, 2008, there is no Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain;
- b) if sold between June 9, 2008 and September 14, 2008 (inclusive), the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain is the inflation per share on the date of purchase minus the inflation per share on the date of sale (as shown on Exhibit 1);

- c) if held through September 14, 2008, the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain is the inflation per share on the date of purchase (as shown on Exhibit 1).¹

H. Recognized Losses for Exchange-traded Options on Lehman Common Stock

* * *

1. Purchase/Acquisition of Exchange-Traded Call Options

For each purchase/acquisition of Lehman exchange-traded call options (listed on Exhibit 4), the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain will be computed by the Claims Administrator as follows:

- a) if sold, exercised or expired on or before June 6, 2008, there is no Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain;
- b) if sold, exercised or expired after June 6, 2008 but on or before September 14, 2008, the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain equals the difference between the Inflation per option on the date of purchase and the Inflation per option on the date of sale, exercise or expiration as shown on Exhibit 4;
- c) if held through September 14, 2008, the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain equals the Inflation per option on the date of purchase as shown on Exhibit 4.

2. Sale of Exchange-Traded Put Options

For each sale or writing of Lehman exchange-traded call options (listed on Exhibit 4), the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain will be computed by the Claims Administrator as follows:

- a) if re-purchased, exercised or expired on or before June 6, 2008, there is no Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain;
- b) if re-purchased, exercised or expired after June 6, 2008 but on or before September 14, 2008, the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain equals the difference between the Deflation per option on the date of sale or writing and the Deflation per option on the date of re-purchase, exercise or expiration as shown on Exhibit 4;
- c) if still sold or written after September 14, 2008, the Recognized Loss or Recognized Gain equals the Deflation per option on the date of sale or writing as shown on Exhibit 4.
